Winemakers' Perspective

The 2014 Mauritson Sonoma County Cabernet Sauvignon is restrained and complex. Taking advantage of our incredible diversity of fruit sourcing, we can home in on the best that Northern Sonoma County has to offer. Each vineyard and each varietal add nuance and layer to the blend, creating a wine that is subtle and over-delivers.

Black cherry and boysenberry overlay cocoa shavings, saddle leather and forest floor. The front palate shows off the structure of the vintage, yielding juicy tannins and great weight. Red dried fruit gives way to rich notes of mocha and toasted pecan. The dash of Malbec provides depth and concentration while the Merlot and Cab Franc provide elegance and complexity worthy of their Bordeaux roots. With abundant tannins and well-balanced acidity this wine will age beautifully for the next 8-10 years.

Cheers,
